

The 90-Day Prosperity Experiment

Day 10: Prosperity Is Your Choice by Kate Nowak

Hello from my heart to yours!

The next step in moving toward a more prosperous life is to realize that prosperity is a choice. That means it's up to you. No one can make you prosperous or rob you of prosperity but you. Prosperous conditions in your life are created by you, in the exact same way you've created all the other conditions in your life up to this point.

I know, I know. You don't really think you chose some of the stuff. But before you start denying that you're the one responsible for what's been happening in your life up until now, I encourage you to stop a moment and reconsider. Take a few minutes to think about everything in your life: the things you like and the things you don't. Really think about it. This is important.

Now ask yourself: How did I get where I am right now? You may not like where you are at the moment, but if you'll go all the way back to the beginning, you'll see it was the countless little choices you've made along the way that got you here. Even if you feel imprisoned in a bad relationship or stuck in a dead end job, it was your choices that ultimately led you to this point.

The good thing about all this, the really GREAT thing is, you are always free to make new choices.

Of course, there are limits. If you choose, for instance, to jump off a skyscraper thinking you will simply spread your wings and fly, certain natural laws like gravity may get in the way of that choice being fulfilled in the manner you have chosen.

Were you, however, to take the time to study the gravitational pull of the earth and determine how you might work with it to achieve your objective, then finding a way to spread your wings and fly off the skyscraper roof would most certainly be possible.

The truth of the matter is you can have anything you choose as long as you are willing to work with natural and universal laws to obtain it. Part of the purpose of this course is to make you aware of those laws and help you understand how to work with them.

And don't worry. Your intention to be prosperous is certainly within nature's law. If it weren't, there would be no prosperous people anywhere and that is simply not the case. Prosperity abounds, and what another can have, you can have, too. There are no limits except those you create.

You get to make the choice. You're the only one who can. And whether you realize it or not, you're making it every single time you read through your Prosperity Business Plan and visualize your dreams. You're making the choice again every time you state your affirmations or take a few minutes to place money in the container for the purpose of sharing your prosperity with others.

You're making it again every time you choose to go back to the requests page and plod through all the pages of requests to return to the ones you originally selected. You make this choice because you understand innately that consistency is part of the prosperity process. Sure, it might be easier just to skip that part of the experiment, but you are choosing to make lasting changes in your life and you know you can't as long as you're skipping your way through every part that doesn't suit you. Skipping steps is for those who choose to stay stuck where they already are. You're not one of them.

So, from my perspective here at Day Ten, it appears congratulations are in order. Congratulations for making an excellent choice to stick it out for the first ten days. From here on out every day will get a little easier. And you know, from where I am looking, I can already tell that prosperity suits you. In fact, it looks really good on you.

Today's Action Step:

1. Today, the time has come to meet your fellow lab participants. Please click on the Experiment Forum link on the upper left of this page.

If you are not already a forum member, please sign up and then scroll down to the bottom of the forums list and you will find the 90-Day Prosperity Experiment Forum. Click on the link and you will be taken to the log-in page. This is a password restricted site. Your password is bless.

Once in the forum, you can open a new thread by clicking on the "New Topic" link at the top of the page and posting a message to introduce yourself. You can also view other threads by clicking on the thread title and then on "reply."

Keep in mind, this forum is brand new and it's only purpose is to give you a place where you can interact with others, ask questions, share insights, and participate in online discussions with others. It's success is dependent on you. This is a valuable tool you can use to help you reach your dreams and goals, so please don't discard it lightly. People from all over the globe are participating in this experiment and through the power of the internet, we are able to reach out and support one another in this wonderful and unique way.

So even if you don't consider yourself to be much of a socializer, I truly encourage you to join this forum and participate as often as you can. Your presence on the forum will serve as a blessing to others and I promise you will reap blessings in return.

2. Re-read your Prosperity Business Plan.

3. Place today's allotment of money in your container and read the affirmation on the container three times.

4. You may continue blessing the person on your list as you wish. Your choice.

Today's Quote:

"There are two primary choices in life: to accept conditions as they exist, or accept the responsibility for changing them.

—Denis Waitley

Today's Affirmation:

"Prosperity is my choice. I choose to grow more prosperous every day."
