

The 90-Day Prosperity Experiment

Day 27: It Comes As A Whisper by Kate Nowak

Hello from my heart to yours!

Once we step onto the path to Prosperity, most of us expect our new prosperous life to come rushing to us in one outstanding experience. We tend to think in windfall terms, of suddenly being immersed in an avalanche of abundance.

So does it happen that way? Sometimes yes, but not usually. And for a very good reason. Windfalls of prosperity tend to be distorted, often bringing as much discomfort as comfort and as many questions as answers. Ask any lottery winner and you'll come to understand that a windfall can prove to be just as painful as the pain we are trying to escape.

Every problem you have, every lack and every limitation has a purpose or it would not be in your life. To expect these experiences to suddenly disappear without that purpose being revealed is to expect to be cheated out of the good each experience brings. Instead of wanting them to quickly disappear, which is a form of resistance, we're much better served when we simply ask them what good they have come to bring.

You see, it is not an eradication of these problems, lacks and limitations you need, it is a new understanding. Were prosperity to rush in, it would only deprive you of that understanding and leave you unprepared. And prosperity never remains long where a place for it has not been lovingly prepared.

Prosperity, therefore, is more apt to arrive softly and without fanfare, like a gentle breeze wafting through an open window in the night. It comes upon us gradually, not in a fell swoop, but with calm and quiet consistency. This way, rather than looking up to suddenly find ourselves surrounded by unaccustomed abundance, we look up one day to marvel at how easily and effortlessly we grew into an abundant new life.

By all means, invite prosperity into your life and do so daily. But do not expect it to rush at you for, in all likelihood, it will not. That would require a quantum leap in consciousness and very few of us are prepared for such mental leaps through time and space. Instead, be willing to trust that prosperity is flowing to you just as it should: in a time and manner you can most perfectly benefit from.

Even now, as you read this, prosperity is flowing to you like a gentle melody. Listen closely and you may hear its song. But you must listen for a whisper, not a roar. And above all else you must trust that it is flowing to you in the way that is perfect for you.

Today's Action Step:

1. Re-read your Prosperity Business Plan and your Ten Things Gratitude List.
2. Place today's allotment of money in your container and read the affirmation on the container three times. Expect to receive in return.
3. Bless those around you, including your fellow participants in this experiment. See those you bless prospering and surrounded by good. Then bless yourself and see the same. You may also want to continue blessing those on the blessing request list.

4. Return to the blessings requests and read the responses being posted by those who have been blessed. (you'll find a link at the bottom of this email, or simply go to bettertobless.com and click on "Request a Blessing") Your blessings are making a difference. Reading the responses will give you an opportunity to see for yourself.

Today's Quote:

"There is magnificence and opulence about life. It often lies undetected and awaits your joyous discovery in the very environment in which you exist. If your perspective is unlimited, if your mind is attuned to the fine inner promptings of the soul, you suddenly see with vision other than the physical eye, the broader vistas of life, and create the type of life you see with whatever situations you find at hand."
